

University, a man whose great reputation precedes him.

and the National Anthem.

It was what could be likened to a family meeting, however this time, it involved the students of Michael Okpara University of Agriculture and their fatherly figure, Prof. Francis O. Otunta the 5th Vice Chancellor of the University pavilion, with students filled to its space capacity, the Dean of Student Affairs Prof. Uchenna Okolie, welcomed the students and urged them to be of good composure as they bare their hearts to the VC.

Without mincing words, he challenged the students to take their relationship with God seriously as all human affairs lies solely in His hands as our creator, Maker and protector of all mankind and having in mind that destiny cannot be controlled by man.

Ushered in with a standing ovation and happy cheers, the Vice-Chancellor in his address to the student expressed his happiness to have had the opportunity to rob minds with them, just as he expressed his dissatisfaction towards their lackadaisical attitude to prayers

Focusing on the issues of the day, Prof. Otunta prompted the Student Union Government to develop a good rapport with the students so that they will always remain acquainted with the situations on ground and around the University.
